6 Million Added To Church Budget

Philadelphia, May 26 (AP)—The 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. today was handed a whopping 1957 "benevolence program budget" of $31,404,063, an increase of nearly six million dollars over last year.

The figure includes a total projected allotment of $10,408,039 for foreign missions and $8,854,475 for national missions. An allotment of $4,063,262 is provided for Christian education.

The overall estimate for 1957 compares with the 1956 budget of $25,769,649. The proposed budget includes these figures: For the church's ministerial pension service—$1,325,000; for general services—$1,317,299; and for the general assembly—$4,409,287.

Coast-Wide Hunt Begins For Slayer of Heiress, 22

Carson City, Nev., May 26 (AP)—Police hunted from New York to California today for a Nevada bartender charged with strangling a pretty blonde Philadelphia heiress.

The woman was identified as Mrs. Anne Harris Van Ryne, 22. Her body was found Thursday night in the apartment of bartender William E. Boswell, 33. She was wearing a polka dot dress and a dark sweater. Her pants were found on the floor of a closet where the body was hidden. Officers said she apparently had been garrotted with a housecoat belt found under the body.

Kansas City police said Boswell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Boswell, Sr., told them he was there Wednesday and had left Thursday in a green 1953 Buick station wagon, saying he was going to New York for a bartending job there.

Sheriff Lester Smith at Carson City identified the body as Mrs. Van Ryne but said he could not be positive until her dental charts arrive from Philadelphia. He said she was pregnant.

The sheriff said the body apparently had been in the closet since Sunday or Monday night. Prince Hawkins, Mrs. Van Ryne's attorney at Reno, said he was certain the identification was correct. Fingerprints from the body matched those on Mrs. Van Ryne's car and personal effects.

Mrs. Van Ryne was the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Four Persons Are Injured In Accidents

Four persons were hurt in automobile accidents in Ulster county Friday afternoon and early today—two of whom were admitted to area hospitals—and a rash of dogs were reported dead from mysterious causes in the Pancake Hollow section near Lloyd.

Operators of two of the vehicles were arrested—one on a charge of driving while intoxicated, the other on a charge of reckless driving.

INJURED WERE: Floyd B. Van Leuven, 22, of Poughkeepsie, head, chest and abdomen injuries; Doris Raycraft, 18, Highland, lacerations of the head and face; Gladys Beylegard, 49, of Greenville Center, slight concussion, and Armando Cataldi, 22, of Brooklyn, bruised right hip and leg.

Van Leuven and Miss Raycraft were admitted to Vassar Bros. Hospital, Poughkeepsie, and Cataldi was treated at the Veterans Memorial Hospital, Elmhurst, and released.

Highland state police said Van Leuven was proceeding in an easterly direction down Main street, Highland, when he failed to negotiate a left curve, ran up on the sidewalk and struck a stone bridge abutment.

Van Leuven was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. He is still in the hospital and no date has been set for the hearing. Time of the accident was set at 3:20 a. m.

Cataldi was injured when a 1949 sedan operated by Antonio Christiano, 37, of Brooklyn, was in collision with a 1955 sedan operated by Leon Berman, 54, of New York City. Cataldi was a passenger in the Christiano vehicle.

ELLENVILLE state police said the Christiano car was proceeding east on Route 32 about a mile east of Walker Valley at 7:40 p. m. Friday when the driver lost control on a curve and skidded sideways into the west-bound lane, striking the Berman car on the front end with the right side.

Christiano was arrested by Troopers H. H. Ganss and Mike Mahoney on a charge of reckless driving. The case will be heard by Justice of the Peace Herbert Poppel on June 8.

THE CENTER BLOC has lost strength in the last two elections. In the 1951-52 local administrative elections, the Communist-Socialist alliance of the left held its own in the north and gained 200,000 votes in the poverty-ridden south.

The Monarchists doubled their strength in the south then and the Fascist Italian Social Movement nearly tripled the vote there.

In the 1953 general elections, the center bloc dipped to 49.7 per cent of the popular vote for the Chamber of Deputies. It won 62.7 per cent in 1948.

SEGGI MADE a final plea in behalf of the center last night in Milan's Cathedral Square. "We have to win so Italy remains Christian," he exhorted. "We have to win so Italy remains free."

For a month orators had harangued crowds in sunny squares and loudspeaker trucks had ranged the streets.

NOW THE DIN was stilled. This is "Silent Saturday," the day required by election law which gives voters an opportunity to mull in quiet the campaign issues.

Sale of alcohol is banned over Election Day to avert last minute brawling.

The campaigning came to an end last night with party rallies up and down the country. There were fewer campaign disorders than at any time since the war. Political observers said Moscow had ordered the Communists to abandon violence.

Italy's Vote May Be NATO Test

30 Million Go to Polls Tomorrow; U. S. Letters Urge Defeat of Reds

Rome, May 26 (AP)—Some 30 million Italians are expected to vote tomorrow in local elections that will show whether the country's majority center bloc can halt the political tides to the far left and far right.

Balloting will be for 7,694 town or provincial administration from south Tyrol to Italy.

THE ELECTION will be a major test of Moscow's new co-existence line in the country with the biggest Communist party in the west. Italy has more than two million Communists.

A flood of letters from Italian-Americans in the United States urged their kinfolk to reject the Communists.

The vote will have no direct effect on Premier Antonio Segni's national government. His center bloc headed by the Christian Democrats holds a thin majority won in the 1953 elections.

President Looks for School Aid Sees Plan Boon To World Peace

Washington, May 26 (AP)—President Eisenhower looked to the nation's universities and wealthy private foundations today to take up his challenge to establish educational centers in lands which lack adequate school facilities.

Eisenhower advanced the proposal in a speech yesterday at Baylor University in Waco, Tex. He said that if it was carried out "the prospects for a peaceful and prosperous world would be mightily enhanced."

EISENHOWER did not spell out details of his proposal, but administration circles viewed it as a private educational assistance program—paralleling the government's own technical aid plan developed under former President Truman and continued under Eisenhower.

The Ford and Carnegie Foundations, the nation's two wealthiest, commented that they already are active in the field of international education. Between them they control more than two-thirds of a billion dollars in assets.

President John W. Gardner of the Carnegie Corp. said in a statement in New York that his organization "has made a number of moves to further precisely the objectives that the President mentions."

Eisenhower's suggestion, he said, "deserves the most serious attention and consideration."

Would Leave Red Visit Invitation Up to Eisenhower

Bishop Says Nehru Feels Russians Nearing Revolt

Oneida, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—A Methodist bishop stationed in India said today that Indian Prime Minister Nehru believed the Russian people to be "nearly in revolt" and the Communist leaders to be "compelled to seek peace."

Bishop J. Waskom Pickett of Delhi, India, told a reporter today he made that interpretation of Nehru's beliefs after an interview with the Indian statesman several months ago.

Bishop Pickett said he had an audience with Nehru after his return from a tour of the Soviet Union. The bishop declined to quote the prime minister directly on the point but said Nehru believed the Russian people to be "clamoring for normal living and relief from tension."

The bishop is attending the annual meeting of the Central New York Methodist Conference here.

"Nehru said one great difficulty has been that the Russian people have felt that the whole world was against them," Bishop Pickett said. "Mr. Nehru felt that in order to advance peace it was necessary to make the Russian people know that there were nations like India that were friendly toward them but were not pro-Communist."

In an address before the meeting here last night, Bishop Pickett said Nehru had been "misunderstood in this country." He praised the American ambassador to India but said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had made "great, compound mistakes."

The bishop, who has been stationed in India 46 years, said some Americans represented Nehru "as a pro-Communist when, in fact, he has fought communism more effectively than any other national leader anywhere."

FRENCH WALKED OUT last time yesterday and a majority favored the move. He added Hussein Ali-Ahmed, Algerian Nationalist spokesman, proposed it.

Other informed sources said 12 countries were prepared to join in an appeal to the council, only the Philippines and Turkey declined to do so and the remaining six lacked the necessary instructions from home. Laos, Libya and Nepal were not represented.

The French delegation did not comment on the latest move. France has been fighting against a Nationalist rebellion in Algeria since Nov. 1, 1954. The French government contends that North African region part of France itself holds that the UN has no right to intervene.

Last July, 13 Arab and Asia delegations asked that the Algerian question be put on the agenda of the 1955 General Assembly session. It was voted on to the agenda Sept. 30. The French walked out. The French came back the following December, after the Assembly resolved to drop the issue.

At a meeting of the American-Asian group May 15, delegates decided to seek instructions that would allow them to ask for a special session of the General Assembly on the question. They took this course, it was said, in the belief they could get only three of the seven votes necessary to put the question on the agenda of the Security Council.

But over the weekend, the Arab League Political Committee met in Damascus and decided to press for Security Council consideration. Yesterday the group changed its plans accordingly. Paw Htin said it did so because the situation had deteriorated to a point of urgency.

Calling a special session of the Assembly requires the approval of a majority of the UN's 76 members in a mail-and-cable poll. Delegates in the group have said they think 35 of the necessary 39 members would approve the idea now and they might manage to win over another four. Observers wondered why the group had switched from (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Priest Appointed For Holy Cross Episcopal Church

The Rev. Gordon A. Taylor was appointed priest in charge of Holy Cross Church, Kingston, according to an announcement by the Rt. Rev. Horace W. B. Donegan, STD, bishop of the Diocese of New York. He will assume his charge June 1.

THE NEW rector fills the vacancy left by the death of the Rev. Stanley I. W. Dean who died last September.

Father Taylor, born in Maynard, Mass., in 1925, attended Maine schools and earned with the Army Air Force at the beginning of World War 2, serving as a gunner-armorer with a B-29 bomber group. He was in the Pacific Theatre of Operations until 1946.

Resuming his education, he graduated from Lenox School, an Episcopal Preparatory School, Lenox, Mass. Father Taylor attended Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and Boston University, majoring in Philosophy and Religion.

HE ENTERED seminary in 1951 at the Berkeley Divinity School, New Haven, Conn., and was ordained Deacon by the Rt. Rev. Oliver L. Loring, Bishop of Maine on June 4, 1954 in New Haven, Conn. He was ordained to the Priesthood December 18, 1954 in Stratford, Conn., by the Rt. Rev. Robert McConnell Hatch, (Continued on Page 3, Col. 7)

Knowland Shocked by Proposal Doubts Approval By U. S. People

Washington, May 26 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today he is willing to leave it up to President Eisenhower's "own good judgment" whether to invite Russian leaders to visit the United States.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, made the observation in an interview after Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) told the Senate:

"I DO NOT believe that any American President would extend such an invitation or that the American people or the American Congress would approve it if it was extended."

Knowland said the suggestion has recently been made by "columnists and commentators" that invitations be extended to Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and others to visit this country.

Saying he opposed an invitation to these or any of a number of other Russian leaders including Soviet Marshal Georgi Zhukov, Knowland added:

"I AM GREATLY shocked that even some of our good citizens should be taken in by such a proposal."

Talk of possible visits by the Russian leaders has been revived by Russia's informal invitation this week to have several high U. S. Air Force officers attend Soviet Aviation Day ceremonies in Moscow June 24, and U. S. hints it might welcome a broad invitation to include all members of the joint chiefs of staff.

New Folder Describes Ulster's Modern Facilities and Historical Background

The rich historical background of Ulster county, founded in 1614 as one of the original counties of the state of New York, together with its present modern facilities for today's travelers and vacationists, are outlined in the newest "touring" folder issued by the Ulster County Publicity Committee of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors.

The 1956 folder, 35,000 in number, will be distributed in nearby states through 162 agencies including automobile associations, gas stations, touring agencies, travel bureaus and also by direct mail to those requesting it. Distribution will be in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and throughout New England states and in Metropolitan New York from whence most of the local visitors come.

This touring folder is in addition to the regular folder which the committee also prints for wider distribution and which contains listings of recreational facilities of the county with instructions how to reach various vacation areas of the county. The general folder lists community associations, Chambers of Commerce and other general information.

This year the "touring" folder includes a large map of the county on which are shown many of the vantage points. There are pictures of numerous picturesque places including scenes along the Minnewaska Trail, Ontora Trail, Shawangunk Mountain Trail and others.

Historically the folder contains pictures of many of the old Dutch stone houses, including the Senate House in Kingston, the Van Deusen house in Hurley, the Hasbrouck house in New Paltz, Hasbrouck house in Saugerties and many others. The old Shawangunk Reformed Church, dating back to 1755, is also portrayed.

On the recreational side are shown numerous scenes of both winter and summer sport centers, including the Belleayre chair lift which is a summer as well as winter attraction. In 1956, according to a recent report there were 148,000 visitors at Belleayre, over twice the 62,000 of last year. These guests spent $138,000 at the state reservation in addition to the business done at hotels, restaurants and other county centers.

In the folder this year, special emphasis is placed on the (Continued on Page 3, Col. 8)

Your Life And Mine

By CLYDE HERBERT SNELL
Laurels to the Loser

Sir Thomas Lipton had one towering ambition. He wanted to own the fastest yacht ever built. Thus he spared no money in order to construct one which, he hoped, would win the international cup. So consistently, yet smilingly, did he meet defeat time after time that the International Committee awarded him a special cup to signalize his distinction as the "world's best loser." Very few folks can recall the name of a single winner of the international yacht races. Yet the name of Thomas Lipton has become almost a household word. He won his distinction by the wonderful spirit in which he took defeat.

The choicest laurels do not always go to the winner. Sometimes the loser walks away with the prize. One of the reasons why the writings of Shakespeare do not become outmoded is because he had the insight to sound some of his most triumphal marches over the fallen. As a critic has said of him: "It is not always the victor to whom he gives the crown; Shakespeare has crowns for the baffled and the beaten."

Very often, in life, we win more by losing than we would if we achieved what we think would be victory. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world—and lose his own soul?" We think it would be a wonderful victory to "gain the whole world"; whereas, it would probably mean for most of us a crushing, eternal defeat. The souls that are most apt to be lost are the ones which have the misfortune to "win." Rare, indeed, is the man who can keep his redemptive balance when he is "sittin' on top of the world." The history of mortals provides the incontrovertible evidence that that is indeed a perilous place to perch.

Often the saving dependence upon God which seasons life with noble humility and bolsters it with vital faith comes out of some bout that makes us, in and of ourselves, unequal to life's demands. Many a man—and woman too—has come away from some terrific bout with illness with the grand prize of a nice, shiny faith who, if perfect health had continued, would never have aspired to win it. Our misfortunes pack a mighty wallop. But that is not the whole story. For sometimes they make winners out of us. In such cases where we never dreamed we would be aspiring, "And when the one Great Scorer comes"

To write against your name,
He marks, not that you won or lost,
But how you played the game."

Stickles Denied Negotiations With Provan Employees

An attempt to negotiate a new contract with Provan Petroleum Transportation employees was made last night at Newburgh by Lester Stickles, whose office as secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 445 is now in dispute in Supreme Court. At a meeting held at Moose Hall, Newburgh, which was allegedly called by Stickles, approximately 70 men were in attendance. This represents about 75 per cent of Provan employees in the area.

Theodore G. Daley of Poughkeepsie, who claims he represents the rank and file of the Local membership, and that he is the duly elected secretary-treasurer, today said the meeting had been called by Stickles. Three of the rank and file officers were in attendance. Counsel for Stickles was also present as was William Doyle, business agent, Daley said.

Provan employees declined to negotiate with Stickles and the officers. Daley said, insisting that they deal with the duly elected officers as represented by the Daley group. Daley said his officers were refused admittance to the meeting until Provan employees insisted the Daley officials be allowed to come in. After declining to recognize Stickles as an officer, the men walked out of the meeting. Daley said on the ground. Stickles was not an officer and had no authority to call the meeting to negotiate a new agreement.

A motion for preference will be heard in Albany Monday for trial of an action pending in Supreme Court to determine the question of which set of officers shall prevail. A temporary injunction is now in effect restraining Stickles and Philip Massello, business agent, from depriving members of the Local of any right or benefits pending trial of the action. Daley alleges in his action union funds have not been accounted for.

If You Feel Social Failure, You Can't Help Rejected Boy

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Nine-year-old Steve attends a school whose students elect class officers every term. As policy, they're all encouraged to seek nomination.

Recently, Steve's teacher asked her class, "Which boys and girls want to become candidates for class president?" Hands were raised. So were those of hopeful treasurers and secretaries. But Steve announced no political interest. "Why, Steven," his teacher asked in surprise, "don't you want to try out for class officer?"

"Aw, who'd vote for him?" someone inquired loudly. And was instantly echoed by cries of "He'd be no good! Why ask him?"

In dismay, Steve's teacher promptly telephoned his mother to report this cruel experience. But though two weeks have passed, the boy himself has never mentioned it. His mother writes, "The teacher says I must make him talk to me about it. How can I do this?"

By recovering from your own fear of his social failure.

A child who keeps such a hurt secret from his parent does so to protect himself. Weakened by fear of his own worthlessness, he's in no condition to deal with the parent's, too.

He avoids agitated concern over him for the same reason you by-pass a rickety chair when you stub your toe—avoidance of more pain. Rather than entrust his weakness to someone who believes it fatal, he prefers to lick the wound himself in solitude.

If Steve's mother has no encouragement that can take the sting out of his experience, she'd better get some quick.

For though she can offer Steve pasteurized milk, conditioned air, antiseptic toys and comic books, she cannot guarantee him completely sterile contacts with human nature.

Though psychiatrists are working on it, it still shares some instincts with the wolf and shark. Like these animal mobsters, the nice children in Steve's class sensed weakness in him—and rushed to tear him down. That this shocked him is natural.

But that it should have so shocked his teacher and mother, I don't understand unless they are as young as he in experience. And accustomed to judging between good and evil, have simply failed to register the times mob feeling has struck out at them.

Instead of contempt, if they seem to feel such respect for the evil in this experience of Steve's, I can only ask, "Where have you been all your lives that you are so scared of rejection?"

Highland state police said this morning the station had received four or five complaints from the Pancake Hollow section near Lloyd that dogs had died during the night.

One dog was sent to the State Police Laboratory, Albany, but the examination showed no traces of poison. It is reported that the dogs froth at the mouth before dying.

The men received training here in the installation, testing and maintenance of the computer. Duration of the courses, which these men attended, ranged from 17 to 39 weeks.

General Manager Robert P. Crago of the IBM Kingston Plant, in a luncheon address to the graduates, referred to the field engineers as "pioneers" who will go to a "small outpost of civilization in the middle of New Jersey."

He stressed the importance of the field engineers, who will be responsible for keeping the air defense computer in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

R. Solomon, executive assistant in the Military Products Division at IBM World Headquarters, delivered a congratulatory message to the graduates from C. F. McElwain, general manager of the Military Products Division.

"Our reputation has been built on our record of service, and I am sure you will uphold and improve on this record when you get into the field," Mr. McElwain said in his message to the field engineering graduates.

Diplomas were presented to the 92 men by Ralph C. Sampson, manager of field engineering at the Kingston Plant, and Mr. Solomon.

Richard S. Tribby of Hollywood, Fla., president of one of the five classes, spoke on behalf of the graduates.

Kenneth B. Robinson, manager of field engineering education, was master of ceremonies.

Talk on Family Living in India

The family in India is more closely knit together than in this country, Dr. Eugene Link of New Paltz State Teachers College told the George Washington Parent-Teachers Association at its annual meeting this week.

Speaking on "Family Life—East and West," Dr. Link explained that the family in India consisted not only of parents and children but of grandparents as well.

IN THIS WAY, when problems arise, the older members of the family bring their wisdom to the solution. The grandfather is considered the head of the family—the wisest member.

Dr. Link's wife, who visited India with him last year, told the P-TA that children in India seldom cry because there is always someone to take care of their needs.

There are often as many as 20 persons in one family. Thus, the child is never left alone, she said. In India children are enjoyed as they grow and develop, she pointed out.

ANNUAL REPORTS were presented and the following officers elected: Mrs. Walter Donnaruma, president; Mrs. Joseph Falvey, vice-president; Mrs. Herbert Van Deusen, recording secretary; Mrs. William Darling, treasurer.

Mrs. Raymond Kilkey, retiring president, who presided, received the charter of membership in the National P-TA Congress from Mrs. Harry O'Brien, national representative for Ulster county.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC DEATHS

Every year, with monotonous and tragic regularity, Memorial Day, which is dedicated in memory of those who have given their lives for their country, brings death and disaster to many Americans. Unhappily, appeals such as this one seems to have little effect in reducing this terrible annual toll on the highways. And yet, there is always the chance that these appeals do help, that they do persuade at least a few people to "slow down and live."

On the chance that we may help to save even one life, therefore, we repeat once more our annual Memorial Day plea to make the forthcoming holiday a holiday in the true sense of the word.

According to National Safety Council statistics, nearly three out of ten drivers in fatal accidents have violated a speed law, 18 out of 100 have been drinking, seven out of 100 did not have the right of way, three out of 100 were guilty of passing improperly, three out of 100 have disregarded a stop sign, two out of 100 have not heeded a warning sign, one out of 100 have disregarded a signal or officer.

These are human failures. Mechanical failures also are responsible for many mishaps. About six per cent of cars involved in fatal traffic accidents have been found to have one or more unsafe conditions.

This, we submit, is criminal. Every car owner owes a duty to the community to see that his vehicle is in proper working condition before he takes it on the road.

This Memorial Day, then, why not do two things: Be sure that your car is in proper mechanical order and drive more carefully than usual.

It may save your own as well as someone else's life.

READING FOR FUN

Parents concerned about their children's reading might well remember that one of the best devices for more, better, faster and more enjoyable reading ever invented is the public library.

If they help the children get library cards, help them find books that are fun to read and not too hard for their age, and if the adults obviously like to get library books to read themselves, reading won't be much of a problem.

RADIATION HAZARDS

The titanic released energy of the atom can be used to destroy a city or to generate power that will illuminate the city. These two widely different uses for atomic energy have one thing in common. Both are accompanied by radiation which, if human beings are exposed to it, can cause harm ranging from slight illness to death.

Ever since the dawn of the atomic era there has been a continuing debate about the dangers of radiation. Though nearly 11 years have passed, the debate shows no sign of ending. The main reason is that we do not know enough about radiation of this kind to resolve the matter.

Yet questions about the dangers of exposure to atomic radiation must be answered as soon as possible. Nuclear tests are being made in various parts of the world, and the number of atomic power installations will increase rapidly in the next few years. If test explosions and the generation of atomic power pose a serious threat to this or future generations, that should be known. If the potential danger is relatively insignificant, that also should be known.

Final answers will be hard to come by. The effect on future generations will not be fully known until those generations have been born. Meanwhile, however, much will be learned through a study being undertaken by the National Academy of Sciences with a $250,000 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

This study will take up not only the direct effects on human beings in this and future generations, but also such things as the impact of radiation on food and agriculture, and even on the weather. When the studies are completed, science will know

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE PLOT OF 1957

When the State Department sent the names of Paul Hoffman and Dean Rusk to the Republican leadership in the Senate, it did something profane in the sense that it violated Republican promises to the electorate in the 1952 campaign that Red China would not be recognized by the United States. The Republicans had bitterly and even cruelly attacked President Harry Truman and Secretary of State Dean Acheson for their pro-Red China machinations, giving the country to believe that the Democrats were a party of treason.

But the cold fact is that Truman and Acheson did not recognize Red China nor did Red China get into the United Nations. It is no secret in international circles nor among U.N. delegates who make their headquarters in New York that the 1956 meeting of the United Nations General Assembly was postponed from September until after the Presidential Election for the convenience of the Eisenhower Administration, so that the United Nations General Assembly would not be an embarrassment during the Presidential campaign. And the most embarrassing subject is, of course, the seating of Red China which could change the votes of many Americans if it occurred before the November Presidential Election. Apparently for the same reason reports from Moscow indicate that Bulganin and Khrushchev will come to the United States after the election.

The proposed appointment of Paul Hoffman and Dean Rusk to the American delegation to the United Nations is bound to give the impression that the China problem was a factor in these appointments. Paul Hoffman is Chairman of the Fund for the Republic. According to the "Daily Worker" of May 16, Paul Hoffman compared Americans who are fighting Communists to "a new form of Ku Klux Klanism—by which a group of Americans having no judicial status whatsoever can set itself up to pass judgment on the loyalties of their fellow citizens." Since when do Americans require judicial status to express their views on a public question or about public personalities or fellow citizens?

The objection to Dean Rusk is that he was Deputy Under Secretary of State and at one time Assistant Secretary for Far Eastern Affairs under Dean Acheson and was, in a measure, responsible for the policies which the Republicans criticized so constantly and so heatedly from 1947 to 1952. The Republican leadership in the Senate feels that the appointment of Rusk is a direct slap at them and at the Republican Party.

But behind all this is the belief that sometime ago, the State Department secretly agreed that Red China would be admitted to the United Nations by 1957 and that the stage is being set for this event. It is believed by Republicans that the Administration will not veto such a proposal but either will abstain from voting or will go along with the majority. Among those who hold these views, it is accepted that the Administration is bowing to pressure from Great Britain.

Red China will be admitted into the United Nations on the theory of two Chinas, Red China and Formosa, a concept worked out by the British and unacceptable fundamentally to both Red China and Chiang Kai-shek. Thus there will be two Chinas, two Koreas, two Vietnams and eventually all of them will be in the United Nations, some as a result of shooting their way in. It will not be long before the Government of the United States, on the theory that the game is up and the Soviet World has won all the victories and that there is no use bucking the tide, will recognize Red China.

Unfortunately, this concept of the solution of the Red China problem makes a liar out of every Republican who said it was all a Democratic plot to appease either Great Britain or Soviet Russia, that it was the concoction of the perverse mind of Dean Acheson. Now that it turns out to be a Republican plot, the product of the realpolitik of John Foster Dulles, it is embarrassing to the Republicans who for so long have denounced it. It is, of course, possible to say that 1956 is a different year from 1952 and that what is possible to say in 1952 cannot be said in 1956. It really would be an Alice-in-Wonderland situation if the Democrats attacked the Republicans for being soft on Communism. (Copyright, 1956, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.
WHY DRINKERS DRINK

Yesterday we were discussing the various questions to which a Yes answer would indicate that a person is or is not likely to become a problem drinker. There is no simple explanation of why problem drinkers drink. One person may resort to alcohol for one reason, another for a different one and the drinker himself may not be aware of what it is that is basically responsible for his liquor habit. So far as normal drinkers are concerned, the reasons for their use of alcohol are neither complex nor mysterious. They may take an occasional drink to be sociable, or to give themselves a bit of "Dutch courage" in trying situations, or because it helps them relax after a hard day. Or they may sip a cocktail for the same reason they eat cheese and crackers or any relish that appeals to them.

The abnormal, problem or compulsive drinker, on the other hand, is usually driven to drink because of some mental maladjustment whose roots are imbedded in his subconscious. His addiction is caused by submerged emotional conflicts which keep him in a more or less chronic state of tension, fear, anxiety, indecision. The degree of his addiction merely indicates how mild or deep-seated his inner conflicts have become. If you are a problem drinker and don't know what's responsible, it will pay you to study the following list of questions, for included in this list are the most common subconscious, as well as conscious, reasons for problem drinking.

1. As an escape from situations, problems or responsibilities which you are unable or unwilling to face?
  2. Because it keeps you from brooding over past mistakes and failures?
  3. To overcome shyness, awkwardness or a general sense of inferiority?
  4. Because it makes you less critical of yourself and your behavior, and so enables you to do things you know or feel are wrong and that you wouldn't do if you were sober?
  5. Because of some maladjustment in your sex life?
  6. To allay your feelings of fear or anxiety?
  7. Because there is a serious conflict between what you want out of life and what you have to accept, and your drinking gives you temporary relief from your disappointments and frustrations?
  8. As a means of punishing yourself?
  9. To find relief from your destructive impulses?
  10. In order to dramatize or draw attention to yourself?
  11. To secure an indirect or substitute gratification of your need for affection?
- Since it is only by understanding the motive behind your drinking that you can eliminate the cause, whatever time and thought you give to this list will be well spent.

Washington (NEA) — Visiting Indonesian President Sukarno not only surprised this town with his excellent pronunciation of English. He also gently slapped the wrist of his Washington speech writers by correcting their grammatical construction of a phrase.

First draft of his speech to Congress contained the sentence "... to not only become economically stable but also politically stable."

"I don't like to use split infinitives," he told the writers. A discussion ensued and finally they called an English professor at George Washington University for his opinion.

Turned out the president was right. The way it came out was, "... to become not only economically stable."

No, I topic, of course, was Tupolev's new airliner—especially the jet engines.

"Tell me, Mr. Tupolev," said one guest, finally overcome with curiosity, "am I wrong in guessing from the large size of the engine's air intake that they have about 20,000 pounds thrust?"

Tupolev mullied this query over and replied:

"You could be very wrong. You don't judge how many brains a man has in his head by the size of his mouth do you?"

That ended the questioning on that subject.

In the last three years he has had three attacks and is just recovering from his third. His first attack came while he was Pakistan finance minister in 1952.

"You really learn a lot about your health after you have an attack," the ambassador told a group at an embassy party recently.

"I can testify to that," said a man standing by.

"Why, have you had a heart attack too?" asked a lady.

"No, but I've been pretty close to one," said smiling Jim Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary.

While swapping cardiac stories with Hagerty, Ali revealed that he and the President differ slightly in their recovery technique.

Ike's doctors have him nap before lunch whereas Ali has been told to rest after lunch.

Would Use Sampson Base for AEC Reactor

Auburn, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—A suggestion has been made to the Atomic Energy Commission that Sampson Air Force Base be used as a site for the Army Quartermaster Corps' 3-million-dollar food irradiation reactor. Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) said last night he made the suggestion in a letter to the AEC "about a week ago."

The irradiation reactor, he said, puts atomic energy to use in preserving foods.

The Air Force is closing Sampson, which has been used as a recruit training center. Looking for a used washing machine? Look in the Freeman Classified for sale column and you will discover if there are any good used washing machines for sale in this area.

Banker Would Ease Restraints on Money

Buffalo, N. Y., May 26 (AP)—Henry C. Alexander, chairman of the New York city banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., recommends the easing of restraints on the availability of money.

Alexander addressed a Buffalo Chamber of Commerce dinner last night.

He said he agreed with the recent increase in discount rates at which the nation's banks secure funds from the Federal Reserve System.

"The difficulty is not in the cost of money but in the degree of its availability," Alexander declared.

"Money should always be available to worthy borrowers, large and small, at a price. The fear of unavailability is about as bad as the thing itself," he continued.

TELEPHONE IN WIFE'S NAME

The following letter comes from a man: "Would it be proper to have our home telephone listed in my wife's name instead of my name, as she uses it almost exclusively? Friends tell me that it would be wrong to do this and will imply that she is either a widow or that she is head of the house and paying the bills. I would very much appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Although the telephone is more often listed in the husband's name than the wife's, it is in no way unusual, and certainly not belittling to him, to have it listed in the name of Mrs. John Smith. To have it listed in the name of Mrs. Mary Smith would be in very bad taste.

Older Bridesmaid Feels Out of Place

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are both in our early forties. He has a brother in the early twenties who is going to be married soon and my husband has been asked to be his best man. His bride-to-be has asked me to be a bridesmaid. I appreciate her asking, but I feel the age difference between me and her other young friends who will be bridesmaids is too great and I will certainly feel out of place. Could I possibly refuse to take part without hurting her feelings?

Answer: I understand your feelings perfectly and it would not be wrong to explain to the bride-to-be that you appreciate her wanting you as one of her attendants but that you would

Youths of Area Attend Christian Endeavor Parley

Members of Rosendale Reformed, Stone Ridge Methodist, Old Dutch Church, Kingston and Friends' Church, Tillson were among the more than 350 young people registered from all parts of the state Thursday evening at the New York State Christian Endeavor convention at Watervliet.

Richard Tailleu, of Kingston, state trustee, is song leader for the convention.

In spite of "moving up day" in Dutchess, "music festival" in Ulster, and starting on a school day, the attendance this year was fast surpassing that of previous years.

IN THE LAST couple years this convention has been held on Memorial Day weekend but with this year falling in the middle of the week, the State Board voted to hold this year's convention the week before starting Thursday night. State officials observed that this year's convales will far exceed last year's record attendance when the peak is reached Friday evening.

Honor was accorded the Rev. Earle W. Gates, president of the International CE Society, as he was introduced last evening, for his many years of work with the New York State CE Union. He is a vice-president of the State Union, pastor of the First Church of Evans, at Derby near Buffalo, and has been working with the State Union for many years. The Rev. Mr. Gates leaves Seattle, Wash., July 21 to attend the Pacific Area World's CE Convention in Japan. In accepting a gift check for nearly $500, the Rev. Mr. Gates thanked all his friends and associates throughout the state who had contributed to this tribute and said he would be honored to represent the Empire State in Japan.

Included with the check were thousands of letters, telegrams and telephone messages sent to the committee in charge of this occasion for the Rev. Mr. Gates.

'THE KIMBALL'

A Home With Plenty of Room

Rooms ..... Seven
Closets ..... Eight
Bedrooms ..... Four
Dimensions ..... 24 x 32 feet
Cubage
House ..... 21,000 feet
Garage ..... 4,000 feet

Two story homes... such as 'The Kimball', today's Home of the Week... are always popular and with good reason since they provide a generous amount of living space yet require only a moderate amount of basement excavation.

Another important reason for the perennial popularity of homes of this type is the fact that they provide the home builder with complete living facilities on the first floor and allow him to finish the second story at his convenience. This aspect of the two story home especially appeals to the many families building on a limited budget.

Although no bedrooms are suggested for the first floor of 'The Kimball', you can use the dining room for this purpose until you finish the second story. During this time the dinette... which is actually a part of the kitchen... can be used for all of the family's meals. And, the living room can do double duty on more formal occasions.

A central hallway connects all the rooms on the first floor of this house... thus, it's conveniently easy to get from one room to another and to do so without disturbing the occupants of a room.

Strictly modern in both planning and equipment the kitchen is a pleasant, well lighted room and is extremely practical. Dining area is set off to one side to be out of mother's way. Sink, counter space, range and cabinets are perfectly placed to save motion and there is a wealth of counter and cabinet space. Overlooking the sink there is a large window so mother can keep her eye on the children in the back yard.

Even the breezeway is completely winterized providing a wonderful spot for children to play. Or, if desired this space can be devoted to placement of washing machine and dryer thus saving the trip up and downstairs to the basement.

Stairs to the basement and also the stairs to the second floor are placed almost directly in the center of the house; they lead from the central hallway. Both your heater and your laundry can be located in the basement.

Four bedrooms are suggested for the second floor. If you don't need four bedrooms one of these rooms can be used as a sewing room, study, etc. All of these rooms have generous window areas that assure plenty of light and ventilation. There also is plenty of closet space... both in the bedrooms and for general storage usage.

Bathrooms on both floors are another very convenient feature sure to please. Each are large and roomy and provide comfortable facilities for even the largest family.

On the first floor of the house there also is plenty of closet space... including a large coat closet in the central hallway and a spacious closet in the living room.

Clapboards are suggested for the exterior finish of this house. Contrasting trim with the same color used on the blinds will help to "dress up" the house and give it a more distinctive appearance. Any type of site can be used for a home of this style and "The Kimball" will look equally attractive placed near the street or back some distance on your land.

The living space of this popular two story home measures 768 square feet on each floor and the garage 380 square feet. This design is approved by the V.A. and the F.H.A. Complete blueprints and specifications of 'The Kimball' are available with a money back guarantee if for any reason the builder decides not to proceed with building plans.

Blueprints Available
Complete plans and specifications for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost. For plan prices write to Home of the Week, Dept. KF, 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I.

Moisture Near Heater May Be Condensation

Moisture collected at the base of a new water heater doesn't necessarily mean that the tank is leaking. It's probably nothing more than condensation, which will soon disappear.

The condensation is caused by heat coming into contact with a cold surface when the burner is first lighted, according to a water heater manufacturer.

The condition usually does not occur again while the heater is kept in continuous service, but where exceptionally cold water is used condensation might occasionally show up.

Fiberglass Curtains

Housewives decorating their homes with fiberglass curtains and drapes should give them proper care. This fabric should not be dry-cleaned, but rather hand-laundered. It can be damp-dried and requires neither ironing, starching nor stretching. To get longest wear from fiberglass draperies, they should not be wrung when washed. Avoid their flapping against sills or furniture and keep them away from sharp or rough objects.

Coatings for Masonry

There are clear, water-resistant coatings for masonry which repel moisture but do not change its appearance. Frequently used on stone or brick surfaces, these may be very pale varnishes, solutions of waxes or silicone compositions.

Major Repairs Due for Many Postwar Homes

The first big batch of postwar houses—a million of them, according to government figures—will become 10 years old in 1956. And with the second decade for the house, home owners are likely to find maintenance costs much higher.

Unlike the first 10 years of marriage, supposedly the hardest, the first 10 years in a new house should be the easiest. Most new homes don't need any major repairs or improvements during that period.

But the next 10-year period is likely to be different and the home owner will do well to set aside funds for repairs and improvements.

The house built immediately after World War 2 is likely to be dated now in a number of ways. The average 1946 model was small and compact. It was built on the assumption that people no longer spent much time at home.

But then television and other inducements came along and people began staying home more than ever. The result, according to a recent survey by the Federal Reserve System, is that the most common complaint among home owners today is lack of space.

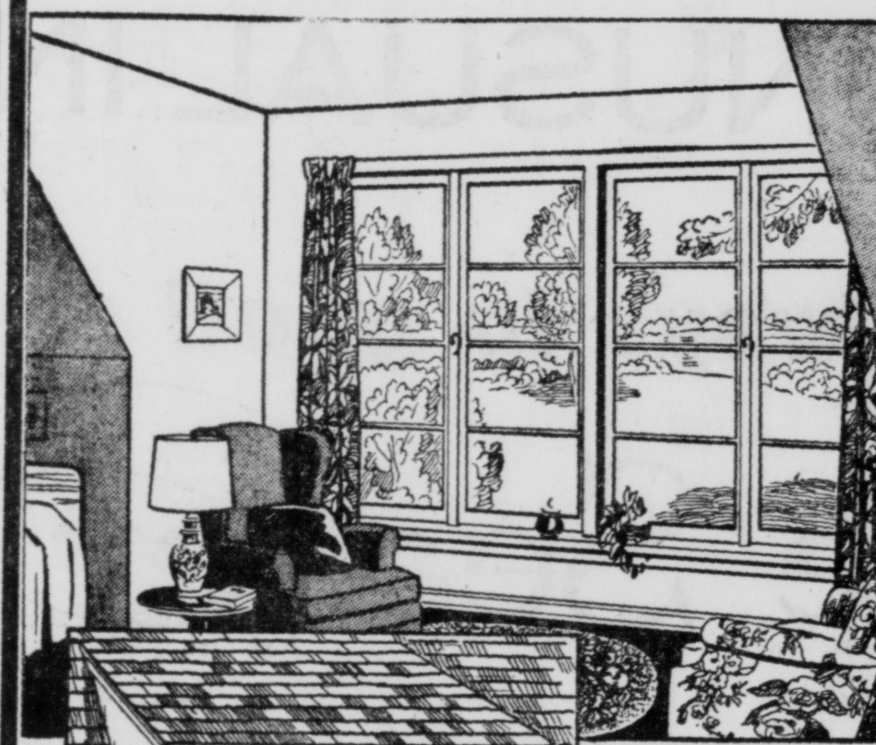

Therefore, the 10-year-old house is probably due for expansion—a room in the attic, a playroom in the basement or a new wing.

Color styling is another change. A decade ago there was not much color variation in building materials. Today homes glisten in almost every color of the rainbow.

USS Joyce Crew Will Be Guests At Tuesday Dance

Crew members of the USS Joyce, a destroyer escort which will be docked in Kingston for the Memorial Day holiday, will be entertained at a dance Tuesday evening at the municipal auditorium.

Local 215, American Federation of Musicians, will provide a 15-piece orchestra which will play for dancing from 8:30 p. m. until 12 midnight.

Andrew J. Murphy 3d, superintendent of the recreation department and a member of the mayor's committee arranging for the entertainment of the crew, said the musicians' union "has been very generous in providing this orchestra through their transcription fund and we invite everyone to attend the auditorium dance and extend a welcome to the crew of the USS Joyce."

The dance, he said, is the first social event on the three-day program for the entertainment of the crew. Other events, which will be announced later, are also planned for their entertainment, he said.

Catholic Appointment

Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York, has appointed the Rev. Edward D. Head as director of the Department of Social Research for the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York. It was announced by the chancery office of the New York Archdiocese. Father Head formerly was associate director of the Family Service Department of New York Catholic Charities. His Eminence has appointed the Rev. John B. Ahern to succeed him in that capacity.

Rhee Completes Cabinet Changes

Seoul, May 26 (AP)—President Syngman Rhee named three new ministers to his cabinet and switched another, apparently completing his post-election reshuffle.

Altogether Rhee has made five changes in the cabinet since that body resigned en masse Sunday after the Liberal party suffered an election setback. Rhee was re-elected by a much smaller margin than in 1952 and his Liberal party lost the vice presidency.

RHEE SAID earlier today he would make a few cabinet changes and retain the others in their posts.

His appointments included two national assemblymen, Taik Shik replaced Kim Hyun Il as finance minister and Chung Joon Mo, succeeded Choi Yo as minister of public health and social affairs.

Kim was switched from finance to minister of reconstruction and also was named Korean economic coordinator, replacing Pak Too Chin.

VICE MINISTER of Defense Kim Yong Woo was promoted to defense minister, replacing Sohn Won Il.

Rhee replaced the home minister Tuesday.

Harriman 'Excellent'

New York, May 26 (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman was reported in "excellent condition" last night at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center. He underwent an operation Monday for a prostate gland condition. The governor had some visitors yesterday, including Dr. Herman E. Hillebrand, New York state health commissioner.

Coils Self-Cleaning

The heating mechanism on electric cooking units will burn itself clean. But the enamel or metal parts around the heating coils need wiping off with a sudsy cloth when the appliance is cool.

Toggle Bolt Needed

As most concrete blocks are hollow on the inside, don't use a masonry anchor to fasten objects to a block. Rather, use a toggle bolt which will hold in spite of the block being hollow.

Easier Glass-Cutting

Before you use a glass cutter, dip the wheel in turpentine or kerosene. This makes the cutter work easier and does a better job of cutting.

Rule for Stairs

Stair risers should be seven to seven and a half inches high, generally but not over eight inches.

One of the country's best players managed to muffle today's hand. The principle of play is, however, surprisingly simple.

Declarer won the first trick in dummy with the queen of diamonds. He next led a club to the ace—and the hand went up in smoke.

It was now possible for South to win only four club tricks. He could not make the contract with three diamonds and a spade in addition to the four clubs.

If South led a diamond, West would take the king of diamonds and shift to spades. He would be able to take three spades, a heart, and a diamond before South could get nine tricks.

South led a heart, but West stepped up with the ace of hearts and shifted to spades. He regained the lead with the king of diamonds in time to set the contract with the last spade.

The bidding made it clear that West was short in clubs, since a player doesn't make a takeout double with length in the suit that he is doubling. South could guard against any short holding by West by leading the king of clubs to begin that suit.

As the cards lay, West would have discarded on the first round of clubs. South would therefore be warned of the club distribution in time to take a finesse through East. He would then knock out the king of diamonds and get to the dummy with a spade for a second club finesse. This line of play would produce five club tricks.

South would be equally safe if both opponents followed on the first round of clubs. He could continue with a club to the ace. If both followed, the suit would break. If West showed out on the second round of clubs, South would eventually get to dummy with a spade to take the one finesse that he would need.

Tips Given On Building A Garage

A recent survey by a maker of prefab garages, reveals that the garage which once was merely a home for the car is today classified under extra room.

The report said that most people put bikes, garden tools, flower boxes and firewood bins under the garage roof. Many then add workshops, darkrooms, home laundries and rainy-day playgrounds.

Often, there isn't room for the car.

Space for today's larger auto is disappearing in more ways than one. Home builders are constructing fewer garages. The survey revealed that 75 per cent of Connecticut's new homes are being built without garages.

It's up to the homeowners. Do-it-yourself and prefabrication concerns are doing a record-breaking business in the garage field. Any homeowner willing to mix muscle with mortar can build his own relatively low-priced garage.

Whether or not you build the garage yourself, keep these basic rules in mind:

Build it big. A nine-foot door is recommended for single garages. Make it 16 feet for two-car garages.

Include at least one pedestrian door.

Both front door and service door of house should be easily accessible from driveway.

The driveway should be as short and as straight as possible.

Make provision for attic storage space.

Concrete floors should slope toward door. In this way, water dripping from car has an outlet.

Locate light-control switch inside house.

At least one window is necessary for ventilation and lighting purposes.

Clean It First

Before refinishing old woodwork which has previously been painted, it needs to be thoroughly cleaned of all dirt, grease and wax. A strong soap and water solution—or any of the specially prepared products designed for this purpose—will remove all normal dirt and grease. Wax can be removed with turpentine, mineral spirits or a special wax removing product.

Save the Scraps

Use those scraps left from slip covering or re-upholstery. They can be made into storage bags for the closet or as containers for small cleaning items and for small parts of the vacuum cleaner.

Shingle Width

No. 1 grade shingles, clear of defects, range from three to 14 inches wide.

Furnaces Should Have Certain Safety Features

If you were to go out today and buy a new heating system for your home, when it was installed it would be covered from head to toe with safety features. And this is a good thing. But many of us have heating systems which grew from hand fired jobs to automatic systems and some of these don't have much in the way of automatic devices except for the thermostat. Many have no safety devices whatsoever. This is bad.

Every piece of fuel fired heating equipment should have an item called a "stack switch" which is mounted on the stove pipe from heater to chimney. The purpose of this gimmick is to turn off the flow of fuel should it fail to ignite. After turning off the flow of fuel, the switch waits a few seconds and then tries again to get the flame burning just right. If things still don't go right after a certain interval, the switch gives up and you get no heat—you also don't get a fire pot full of oil that was delivered by the pump.

For boilers there is something called a "low water cutoff." The job this item performs is to cut off the fire should the water level in the boiler drop below a certain point. Another useful piece of equipment to use on boilers is an automatic supply valve which automatically adds water to the boiler when it is required.

Getting back to warm air furnaces there is a unit called a "bonnet switch" and this provides the necessary function of keeping the temperature of the air in the furnace within safe limits.

Counter Plan For Kitchens

A "peninsula" counter sticking out into a kitchen the way Cape Cod sticks out into the ocean, can often be the solution to a tough kitchen planning problem. The peninsula counter combines with counters and cabinets along two walls to form a U-shape, which home economists say is one of the most desirable arrangements.

One end of the counter contains a built-in range, the other serves as working area with a breakfast bar on the overhanging ledge.

Underneath the peninsula is a solid bank of pine cabinets, matching those on the floor and along the wall on the other two sides. Cabinets boast a natural finish, displaying the beauty of the wood grain.

Wood cabinetwork supplies homelike warmth to a kitchen, removing any danger that the room will produce a sterile, laboratory-like feeling.

Then Watch The Line

If you have a narrow garage, try painting a line right down the center of the door and up the center of the wall at the end. This will serve as a guide line when entering and leaving the garage and save a lot of dented fenders.

Fire-balling John Mustion of Kerhonkson High school pitched his third one-hitter of the season yesterday, throttling Marlboro Central, 7-3, in an Ulster County Athletic League game at Kerhonkson.

Again it was a double by a leadoff man that spoiled the dark-haired righthander's bid for a no-hitter. Doug Swartz was the villain in Mustion's latest miss, spiking a two-bagger in the fifth frame to drive in the Duke's first two runs.

IN PREVIOUS games, Mustion was prevented from entering the schoolboy Hall of Fame by John Tysee of Wallkill and Ontario's Bob Shults. Oddly enough, both these hitters were leadoff batters.

Mustion faced 30 batters in the seven inning game, walking four and fanning 11. He was only in trouble in the fifth and again in the sixth when Marlboro got its final run. That came on two errors, a walk and passed ball.

KERHONKSON SCORED once in the first and wrapped up its fourth win in nine games with a five-run third off Dom DiCapua who traveled the route. Singles by Werner Wustrau and Ron Miller, plus a hit batter, walk and two errors on overthrows did the damage.

Marlboro, which is the two-time defending champion of the UCAL, now has suffered seven losses against only three wins.

Strader Dies at 51

Berkeley, Calif. May 26 (AP)—Norman (Red) Strader, whose playing and coaching career spanned the rise of big time football, died early today following a heart attack.

His last coaching job was a one-year stint with the professional San Francisco 49ERS, ending last winter.

Before that, the smiling 51-year-old red head had coached at Regis College, Denver, at nearby St. Mary's College, for three Navy bases during World War II, and for the defunct New York Yankees professional team.

He played the game well enough to be named to Walter Camp's third All-America team after his 1924 season at St. Mary's and played with two Chicago pro clubs, the old Bulls and the Cardinals.

His wife, Helen, heard him moan in his sleep and then saw him lose consciousness before the arrival of a Catholic priest, Father Frank Borovich. Strader was declared dead at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Monticello Downs KHS Netmen, 4-1

Finkler and Bouton joined to defeat Schoonmaker and Oudemolen 6-2, 6-4 in one doubles and Leon Gootlieb and Learner topped Hans Wolfe and Gary Johnson 6-0, 6-4 to cap the success.

Bill Parmelee and Dave Eyles carded brilliant scores of 72 and 73 to pace the Kingston High School golf team to their most impressive DUSO League victory of the season, a 10½-1½ romp of Middletown High yesterday at the Twaalfskill course.

IT marked the third win for Harold Hathaway's squad in the league and assured them of second place in the DUSO. The Maroons, who haven't lost a match at home, dropped two road tilts and tied one.

Parmelee shot a sparkling 37-35 and Eyles 37-36 as they marched through Bill Flannery (83) and Powell (79). Richard Diers picked up another three points with an 87, three strokes better than Patsy Guzzetti. The Maroons' other points were collected by newcomer Fred Barthel, a freshman, who shot 96.

Kingston faces Catskill in a return game Monday in its last regular match. After this encounter they engage in the Section Nine Tourney at Walden June 2.

Adios Harry Sets World's Record

Oxon Hill, Md., May 26 (AP)—Adios Harry gained revenge and a new world's record last night by winning the $10,000 Henry Volo Free-For-All Pace at Rosecroft Raceway.

Carpouzis Cops Scoring Crown in YMCA League

Records are made to be broken and the boys in the YMCA Winter 'A' Basketball League went way out in proving this old saying true this past season. Figures released today by the loop showed that scoring records were smashed in every department tabulated and probably in a few that were not.

Leading the assault was George Carpozis, Back's Cedars brilliant sharpshooter. The former Marine and KHS star is the all-time scoring champion of the circuit and on the basis of his record must rank as one of the top marksmen ever in this area.

CARPOUZIS SCORED an amazing total of 439 points in 12 games, a new high for the circuit. His scintillating 36.6 average was far above any other league mark as was his total of 175 goals.

Highland Seals 2nd In UCAL

Highland Central school clinched second place and kept its faint pennant hopes alive in the Ulster County Athletic League by downing Ontario Central, 9-7, yesterday at Boiceville.

Bob Relyea's team is 8-3 in the loop and still maintains a slim chance of tying front-running Saugerties for the flag. The loss for the Indians squared their mark at 5-5 and ruined any possibility they had of finishing in the runnerup spot.

LEFTHANDER PETE Burdash was staked to a big lead in the early innings and hung on grimly to post the win. He was constantly in hot water due to wildness and wound up passing 11 and yielding 10 hits. He struck out eight.

Second baseman Dave Williams paced an 11-hit barrage off loser Jim Rose with a perfect 4-for-4 at the plate, including a triple and double. John Gersch added in with a solo homer and Burdash smacked a triple and Bob Valentino a double.

SEVEN ERRORS hurt Rose along the way, particularly in the first three innings when Highland hopped off to a commanding 8-3 lead. After that, the Indian righthander settled down and pitched scoreless ball until the visitors tallied their final marker in the sixth.

Ontario, which meets Saugerties Tuesday in its next start, played without regular catcher Dick Smith, who is hurt and right fielder Dick Murphy.

Mother Nabs Son

Fort Madison, Iowa (AP)—When Junior John Reynolds, 34, escaped from the state penitentiary he did not figure on his mother making the capture. Prison officials said Mrs. Ethel Reynolds escorted her son back to the penitentiary 24 hours later. Reynolds had 23 days left to serve when he fled from a work detail. He now faces an additional five years for escape.

Vandal Shoppers

University Park, Pa. (AP)—Careless handling of merchandise costs retailers thousands of dollars each year, reports Elsie Barnesberger, extension specialist in consumer education at Pennsylvania State University. In grocery stores, she says, customers pinch fruit to see if it's ripe and burrow under the top berries in a basket to see if the bottom ones are good. Home-makers are justified in inspecting the conditions of goods, she adds, but urges careful handling by customers as if they were going to buy the article.

Cool Spell Seen Over, Bay State Crops Hit Hard

(By The Associated Press)

The brief cool spell in the northeast, which caused millions of dollars damage to crops, appeared broken today as warmer air spread into New England and the lower Great Lakes region.

Temperatures in the areas were 10 to 15 degrees higher than 24 hours earlier. Readings yesterday morning were about 20 degrees below normal, dropping below freezing in many areas. Heaviest damage to crops, an estimated five million dollars, was in Massachusetts.

It also was warmer in the western Great Lakes region, with readings 5 to 10 degrees above normal compared to 15 to 20 degrees below normal two days ago.

Temperature changes in other parts of the country were minor. Readings in most areas were around seasonal levels except for a little below normal in sections of the Gulf states.

There were widely scattered areas of rain. The Weather Bureau reported that showers and thunderstorms occurred in most of the nation yesterday except along the west coast.

29 Boys Inducted In New Port Ewen Cub Scout Pack

A group of 29 boys were inducted as Bob Cats in newly formed Cub Pack 26 during the initial pack meeting held Friday night at Town of Esopus auditorium, Port Ewen.

The new Cub Pack is sponsored by the Port Ewen School Association. Denis Ahearn, cubmaster, opened the program with a welcome to Cub Scouts, parents, friends and scouts in attendance. He introduced John Covey, assistant cubmaster of Pack 19, VFW, who offered a few words of encouragement to the new Cub Scouts.

Edward Safford, district commissioner when introduced, briefly outlined the activities of Cub Scouting and described the achievements. Following his talk he presented the Cub Charter to Robert Freer, institutional representative for the Pack. Ole Christensen presented the Pack Committee with their registration cards and Cubmaster Ahearn presented the Bob Cats pins to the mothers of the new Cub Scouts, who in turn pinned them on their sons.

Den Mothers of the newly formed Pack are Mrs. Henry A. Diane, Mrs. Oakly Maynard, Mrs. John Houghtaling, Mrs. Chester Barth, Mrs. Robert S. Steeger and Mrs. Angus Doyle. Den Chiefs are as follows: David Montilla, Rolf Kruckas, Daniel Terpening, Mark Tinnie and Darrell Myers.

Feminine Touch

Barrett's Ferry, Va. (AP)—Two widows and a young miss have achieved success here in what's usually considered a man's world. They operate a hunting-fishing mecca on the banks of the Chickahominy river. They rent boats and motors, duck blinds and dock facilities and sell fishing tackle and bait. You can also rent a hunting cabin. Mrs. Ellen Hofmeyer is president of the company. Her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Hofmeyer Midkiff, is vice president and treasurer, and Miss Ellen Browning, a granddaughter of Mrs. Hofmeyer started the business and at his death the women folk carried on. They also hunt and fish themselves and they encourage men to bring their wives with them on their trips.

More Red Seamen Ask U. S. Asylum

Taipei, Formosa, May 26 (AP)—The U. S. Embassy said today four more Soviet seamen of the Russian tanker Tuapse have requested asylum in the United States. It said their cases would be considered individually.

Earlier in the U. S. State Department had turned down an informal request by the four seamen for asylum, on grounds it had not been made through proper channels.

The Chinese Nationalists seized the Tuapse in June, 1954, in Formosa Strait. The master and 28 crewmen returned to Russia. Nine crewmen went to the United States last October and seven remained in Formosa.

Five of the nine who went to the United States left suddenly April 7 for Russia. A Senate internal security subcommittee called their departure a "kidnaping." The United States expelled two members of Russia's UN delegation for their alleged role in the affair.

Admits Fatal Stabbing

Cincinnati, May 26 (AP)—Police said today Robert Lyons, 43-year-old water meter reader, admitted fatally stabbing a young Cincinnati society matron last April 11. They said Lyons told them he became incensed at Mrs. Audrey Evers Pugh, 34, and stabbed her after she told him to use a door into the garage to read the water meter rather than entering through the rear door of the house itself. Mrs. Pugh's body, with 24 stab wounds, was found inside the front door of her home in a fashionable Hyde Park district by her husband, William Worthington Pugh.
